The process for shutting off our cravings for drugs and alcohol, including the process for turning on important coping mechanisms to alleviate on going mental health issues, is not a light switch. Most people abusing drugs and alcohol, those neglecting their mental health, or both, have invested themselves in those behaviors for months, years, and even decades.

At Peaks Recovery Services we believe that long-term recovery requires a significant investment to heal both our mind and body from our unhealthy past.

FOR YOUR RECOVERY INVESTMENT WE OFFER:

- Both Intensive Outpatient Therapy as well as standard outpatient therapy
- Convenient evening hours for students, professionals, and extended family members
- We customize treatment goals to meet the individual needs of each of our clients
- Our clinicians have decades of experience helping individuals dealing with substance use disorder, a variety of other co-occurring issues including mental health concerns, and other forms of addiction
- Professional, comfortable, and confidential location
